

Dear Sir or Madam,

The BARTEC Safe.t Newsletter provides you with latest information on explosion protection regulations and news about products and applications.

In the current edition the main focus is on state of the art technologies like WLAN in Ex areas and the new ATEX Directives in practice.

Kind regards

The BARTEC Safe.t Newsletter team

WLAN in Ex Areas

The transmission of data within Wireless LAN nets is becoming increasingly important because of the undisputed advantage of mobility...

For further information please click here

The ATEX Directives in Practice

The ATEX Directive 1999/92/EC (see also national law) lays down the duties of the employer/operator with respect to safety in hazardous areas...

For further information please click here

Sensor Innovation Award 2006

Creative developer know-how and many years of experience have paid off. The "Hygrophil DT" optical dewpoint sensor developed in a co-operation between BARTEC's development team in Gotteszell and the Institute For Physical High Technology came 2nd in the Sensor Innovation Award 2006...

For further information please click here

Successful Presentation at PCIC Europe 2006

BARTEC's lecture at the third European PCIC conference went down very well. Over 50 applications had been received for the third round of the conference in Amsterdam from June 7 - 9, 2006...

For further information please click here

Innovation Award 2006 of the German Industry

BARTEC's innovative strength and unfailing instinct for new products and new applications have been rewarded. BARTEC won the Innovation Award of the German Industry with POLARIS. The newly-developed Panel PC series with wireless communication was considered superior to rival products from as many as 200 competitors from the industry...

For further information please click here

If you don't want to get our newsletter any longer please click here.

We are looking forward to your questions and suggestions regarding our BARTEC Newsletter.
Please click here to contact us directly.